The jig is up for the "elite."

The 0.1% are not joking when they refer to us as "cannon fodder" and "peasants." There is a century long power-play going on that is patiently and gradually stealing your rights, freedoms and prosperity. If you even dig just a little bit you will find signs everywhere that prove that the governments of the world are working against their populations. Let me list a few:

1. Two party dictatorships - pseudo-choice of equally pathetic & corrupt leadership.

2. Banks stealing assets - with government blessing. Abuse of contracts and abuse of credit creation being major tools of the trade.

3. Government moves to hack into your personal communications - Edward Snowden exposed it. Our government persists in destroying your right to privacy.

4. Increasing moves towards a police state best seen in the USA with Patriot Act-style machinations.

5. Global forums - G20 - UN - Bilderberg etc etc. All designed to maintain the power and wealth of the elite while limiting opportunities and options for the rest of us.

6. Military adventures and abuses that have nothing to do with flying the freedom flag and helping oppressed people. More than likely it's about flying the false flag and advancing the interests of corporations - particularly financial and military.

7. Privatisation moves seeing our nation's assets often put into foreign hands - usually bankers'.

8. Abuse of local governments to progress an agenda that again limits our democratic and economic rights.

9. The increasing inability for people to own their own home. A higher portion of people's income being spent on mortgage payments or rent.

10. The stagnation of wage growth while corporate profits boom.

11. The fact that now it is highly unlikely for young people to have an equal or better lifestyle than their parents.

12. A corrupted education system that deliberately promotes ignorance of important history.

13. Donations to political parties from corporate and foreign interests - usually with chains rather than strings attached.

14. A corrupted judicial system that almost inevitably supports the wealthy and powerful against the little guys who have been put through the ringer trying to defend themselves.

15 Increasing difficulty for the elderly to make ends meet.

16. The attack on our farmers by bankers and governments.

17. The unsustainable increase in personal and public debt. The finance sector craves to have you, your children and your government in - never to be repaid - debt from cradle to grave.

18. A dishonest and corrupted mainstream media (propaganda machine) that in large part distracts you from the real issues. Titillates you with mind numbing rubbish. Deliberately feeds you misinformation about financial and world events. Fake news indeed.

18. Worldwide moves toward austerity as a means for the elite to ration living standards and control even more tangible assets and wealth.

Get the picture folks? The BRN three point plan seems to be our best shot at genuine reform. We'll release all the details when we have the support required to give it the best shot for success.

The Bank Reform Now team feels that to improve the situation for most of us reforms to banking and finance are critical ..... but there is much more that needs doing. Join us and we will let you know the
