Shamed Aussie Bankers Will Be Shunned

Summary:
It is inevitable that people will find the behaviour of bankers intolerable. In a world first, upper echelon Australian bankers will likely soon be shunned by a broad section of the community. We will have important reforms when we have the guts to take a united stand. We must demand our freedom, rights and privacy. We do that in part by laughing our tormentors out of their positions of power and influence. Shunning these characters is far easier and more effective than violent revolution. Eventually we will have our justice & freedom by developing and using an alternate system that suits our needs - not theirs. It is that simple!

Justice Demands The Bankers & Their Lackeys Face The People

Do you think this is harsh and unreasonable? Well think about the damage the bankers and the system they protect has caused to every single one of us. Let’s just consider one example. A bank engages in predatory lending and asset strips the client after the set-up plays out. The client loses the house maybe even goes bankrupt. While the bankers have a laugh and celebrate at a classy restaurant - the victim will quite likely never recover.

The victim won't travel on a first class flight or eat in a fancy restaurant. The victim would be extremely lucky to tell their story on TV.

We haven't even touched on the money laundering; rate rigging; insurance scams; financial planner racket; and the Ponzi credit creation crime against humanity that forces you to work more than half your life to enrich the money manipulators and their accomplices. And - never forget, all these crimes can only proceed unpunished with political collusion and corruption.

Call it karma - call it revenge - call it an eye for an eye. We call it justice when the bankers and their cronies suffer in the same way regardless how much money they have in their bank accounts. They won't even be able to get a plumber or babysitter to call out and provide for their needs. What's the point of having their Mercedes when no one will service it? These characters need us far more than we need them. It's pretty close to time for us to show them who has the real power.

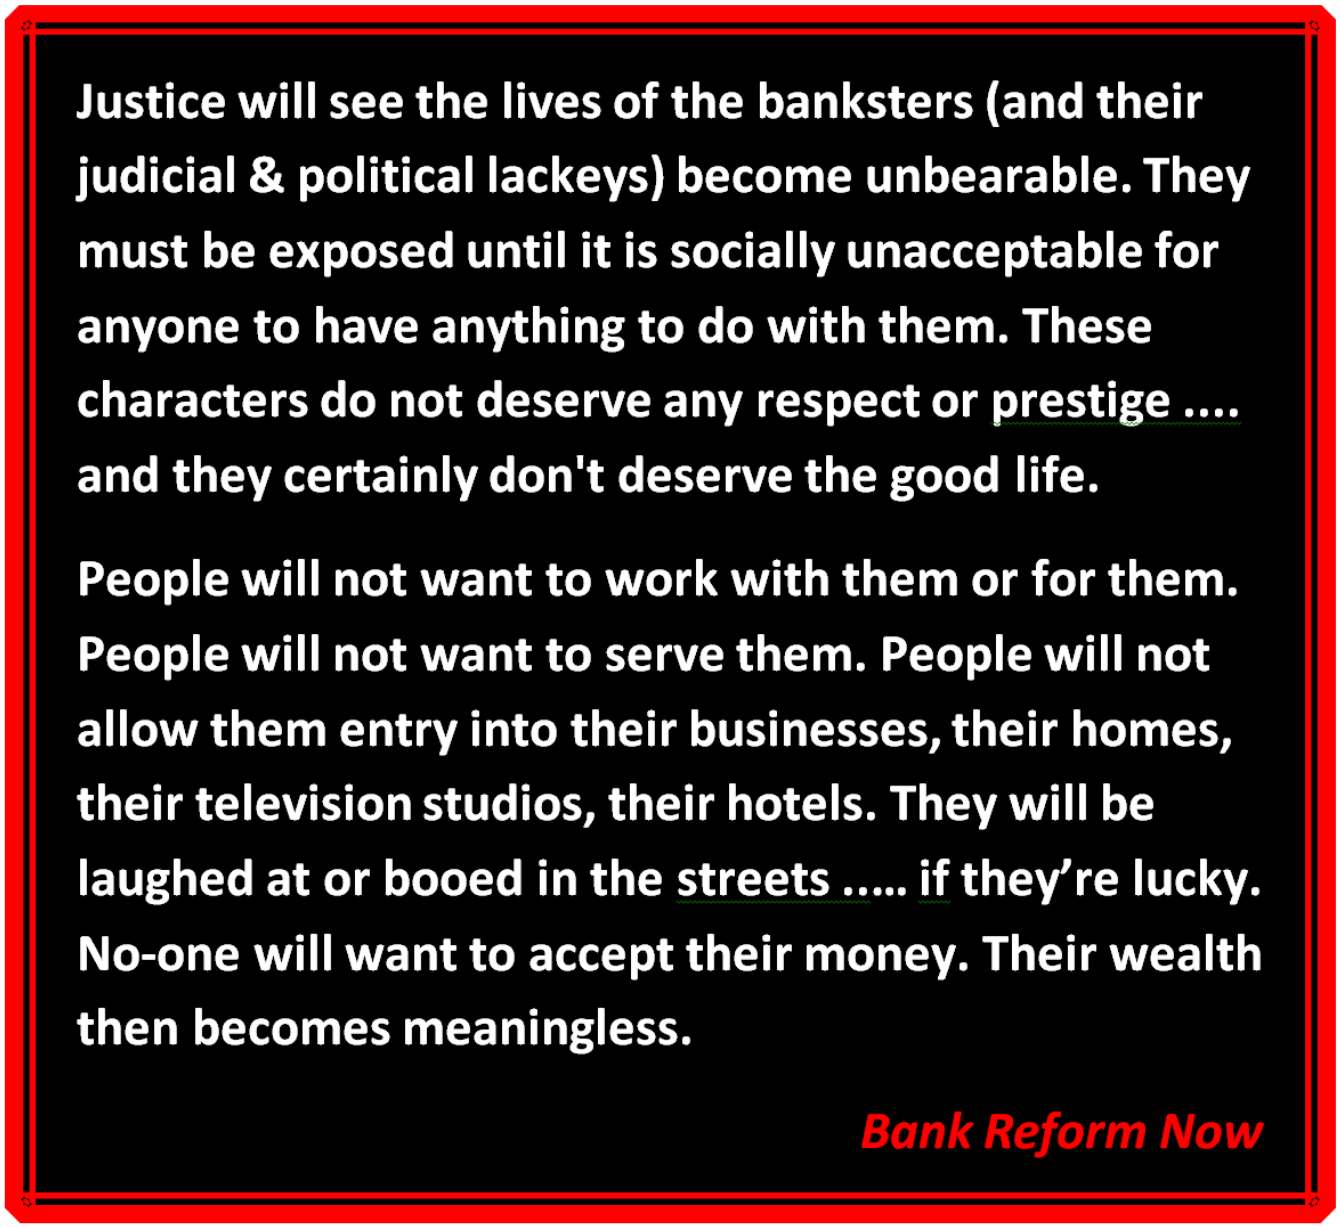

Once fully exposed - disgraced bankers and politicians will become unemployable ….. just like the exposed priests and movie stars or producers who are in the news every day for their abusive despicable behaviour.

When do you think we should start this approach? Should we wait till the next crisis ….. when people are already losing their homes and jobs? Or should we begin when the bankers and pollies try to sabotage the cryptocurrency blockchain? Will we really let them destroy a magnificent opportunity to become independent of the banks? Do you understand how critical the blockchain is to your freedom? Cryptocurrency is not held in banker owned and controlled computers. The government and the bankers cannot access your money in any way. There is no bail-in or negative interest rate racket to steal your money whenever it suits the elite.

BRN has ideas that will help you bring about justice and reform. We can only implement our plans with your support. Register with us today. Kick a few bucks into the kitty each month, spread our message and get ready.

This year we are going to help you get a proper Royal Commission. Plus we are running the Big Bank BANG Countdown – set to go off on April 22 – CBA CEO Narev's birthday. Will he be able to eat out that night? Time will tell.
